Tokenomics

Current state

The project is currently in contract migration phase.

The trade for previous contract is currently paused.

This will be 1:1 migration, meaning holders of tokens from the previous contract version will be airdropped with same amount of their current holdings into the new contract version. Liquidity will be migrated and paired with the new contract. Market cap and liquidity will be the same as the old contract, since this is 1:1 migration. This means if you hold 100$ worth of previous token version, you will now hold 100$ of the new tokens.

Note:

There may be little price deviations, because of the fluctuating price of BNB.
